

Jump Into Spring With ENP

Friends,

With spring just around the corner, here are some updates from ENP! Our past few weeks have been jam-packed with events. A SPACE alum took a trip to the US, we held more parent meetings to check in with them and their students, and one of our SPACE students was elected president of the municipal student council in Petach Tikvah!

It's hard to believe that it is already springtime, but time does fly when you're having a great year. Thanks for your part in making it great!

"SPACE changed everything..."

Linoy Eazu, a SPACE alumna, traveled to the US in February to speak about her experience as an Ethiopian-Israeli student and in SPACE. As a wonderful speaker and great student, Linoy was poised and spoke with ease and grace.

Starting at the annual BBYO International Convention in Denver, Linoy then headed to Florida to speak to Federations, congregations, women's philanthropy groups, Jewish day school students and more! In a truly remarkable event, Linoy was hosted by the Jewish Federation of South Palm Beach County for a special "Federation Shabbat". The highlight of the series of events was held in the largest Orthodox synagogue in the Southeast United States, where Linoy shared her story with over 500 congregants. It was an amazing experience, and an incredible trip!

Bring A Student To Your City!

Mr. President...

SPACE student Reuven Tagenia made history in Petach Tikva, recently, becoming the first Ethiopian-Israeli student elected as president of the municipal student council. A bright and humble student who won with over 60% of the votes, Reuven is ready to lead his fellow students and truly make a difference in his city.

Staff Highlight: Meet Rachamim

Did you know that the majority of ENP's staff is Ethiopian-Israeli? Rachamim Melaku, an ENP regional coordinator from Haifa, has dedicated his life to helping others, and today does so through ENP! After coming to Israel at age 12, Rachamim worked as hard as he could to get where he is today. Rachamim is very dedicated to the students he works with in SPACE. Watch him speak about his experiences and his time working with SPACE by clicking on the video to the right!
